

GALERIE JUDITH ANDREAE

PRESS RELEASE

THE PLANET IS BLUE

Felix Contzen, Nikola Dimitrov, Hildegard Elma, Meike Entenmann, J. Henry Fair, Stefan Hunstein, Gudrun Kemska, Lea Lenhart, Achim Mohné, Regine Schumann, Viktoria Strecker and Birgitta Weimer

Vernissage Friday, September 1st 2017, 7pm – 9 pm

Duration: September 2nd until December 22nd 2017

The exhibition autumn at Galerie Judith Andreae is under the impression of the World Climate Conference, which will take place from November 6th to 17th 2017 in Bonn. Artists of the gallery, as well as guest artists, present works that show the beauty and at the same time the fragility of the earth.

In the vaulted cellar one immerses in the fascinating underwater world of Lea Lenhart (*1972 Altstätten/ Swiss), the richness and diversity of this life community. Natural landscapes are exposed to climate change, artificial worlds are created for man. The human being takes influence and constantly changes our blue planet Earth.

To question the artistic positions, create associations, clarify dangers, offer possibilities.

Shown are works by:

Felix Contzen (*1981, Willich/ Niederrhein) – Video, Photography

Nikola Dimitrov (*1961, Mettlach/ Saar) - Painting

Hildegard Elma (*1948, Freudenstadt) - Painting

Meike Entenmann (*1975, Böblingen) - Objects

J.Henry Fair (*1959, Charleston, USA) - Photography

Stefan Hunstein (*1957, Kassel) - Photography

Gudrun Kemska (*1961, Datteln) - Photography

Achim Mohné (*1964, Aachen) - Photography

Regine Schumann (*1961, Goslar) – Acrylic glass objects

Viktoria Strecker (*1987, Hannover) – Drawing, Objects

Birgitta Weimer (*1956, Gemünden/ Main) – Drawing, Objects

Lea Lenhart (*1972 Altstätten/ Swiss) - Objects

From September to December, the exhibition will be constantly changing, performances and other events will take place.

Please check our website and newsletters regularly.

Vernissage: Friday, September 1st 2017, 7pm – 9pm

Paul Kemp Promenade: Saturday, September 9th 2017, 11am – 6pm

Open Heritage Day: Sunday, September 10th 2017, 11am – 6pm